Free cookery classes and cookery school for people living with taste and smell loss caused by cancer and covid.

The Science

Life Kitchen is backed by science. We work with Professor Barry Smith at the Centre for the Study of the Senses. Professor Smith advises us on how flavour works scientifically, and we translate this into delicious recipes that help people enjoy food again.

We use five elements: aroma, umami, texture, layering and trigeminal food sensations to create our recipes.
